Dear Decision Women,

It was great to see so many Decision Women at our summer event. The Soireé was truly delightful! We thank Carole Anzini for her hospitality, and Terry and Frank Anzini for opening their home to us. From the people, to the setting, to the food and the weather, everything was perfect. It was a wonderful occasion to catch up, relax, and just enjoy each other's company on a summer's evening.

You may be getting the feeling, like I am, that summer is slipping away. Labor Day Weekend and Back-to-School days are nearly upon us. It's time to plan our fall schedules and get upcoming Decision events onto our calendars.

From the dynamic speaker we'll meet at our September 5th meeting, to our Membership Drive event on October 3, to an excellent presentation on November 7th and another amazing Holiday Party on December 5th, we look forward, together, to a season of strengthening connections, of learning, of laughter and of giving back. I look forward to seeing you.

Yours in Decision,

Debbie

Patricia A. Bowkowski is our September 5th presenter. Patricia owns NineFrogs (ninefrogs.com), a consulting business she founded in 2012. Studies show that first impressions are pretty accurate, and that first impressions are lasting. In business exchanges and in personal matters, assessments take place in just seconds. Are you doing all you can to maximize the positive impression you are striving to make? Your level of professional and personal success can depend on it. From her impressive social media following to her wide-ranging clientele and the demand for her services, it's clear that Patricia has struck a chord in the business community, filling a variety of executive needs. From our clothes and manners to our businesses' social media and web presences, Patricia will share valuable expertise to help propel us to greater personal and professional success.
